

Chief Executive Officer

Mind4Energy is a fast-growing player in the market of control of large solar PV installations. We believe the world is evolving to 100% green energy and that most energy consumption will be electric by 2050.

We build advanced software to optimize renewable energy generation and to facilitate the integration of renewables in the existing electrical grid. Our international customer base includes renewable energy developers, large construction companies and energy traders and aggregators.

Mind4Energy is looking for an experienced Chief Executive Officer to take the company to the next level.

Your core tasks

- Together with the Management Team, you turn our business plan into a concrete action plan. You define measurable KPI's to measure the company's progress.
- Together with the Management Team, you continue to build out the company structure to support our growth: optimization of processes, putting in place actionable analyses, reporting, ...
- Thanks to your network in the industry, you are able to support Mind4Energy' sales and business development activities. You regularly meet with (potential) customers, attend conferences and expand your network.
- Together with our Chief Financial Officer, you are responsible for follow-up of finances, budgets and overall results of Mind4Energy. You have final responsibility for achieving the P&L according to the business plan.
- You guard the DNA of Mind4Energy and foster a good team spirit.
- You report to the Board of Directors.

Your profile

- You have a master's degree in engineering or economic sciences. A strong technical foundation is an absolute necessity.
- You have 5 to 10 years experience in higher management and a track record for building open, collaborative teams.
- A relevant personal network at executive level in the energy sector is a must.
- You are able to provide structure. You make clear agreements, with clear deadlines and you follow up.
- You are an energetic team player who feels at home in a small (20-25 FTE) but fast-moving software scale-up.
- You are fluent in Dutch and English.

Our offer

- The opportunity to embark upon a fantastic journey to play an important role in the energy transition.
- A competitive salary, bonus and stock option package.

Are you up to this challenge? Please send your CV and letter of interest addressed to the Chairman of the Board to recruitment@mind4energy.com.
